What else would the animal need to survive?	Trace & cut out your foot, and your family's too. How many paperclips/lego bricks/blocks long is each foot? Who has the longest foot?	Be a story maker! Imagine a story idea, make your story with toys, then draw your story on paper. Talk about your story and add some labels.
Play feelings charades with your family. Choose a feeling & act it out! (ex. Happy, sad, excited, scared, frustrated, shy, lonely)	Ask your grown up for some old magazines or newspapers. Cut out pictures, letters and words and glue them on paper to make a collage.	Get a piece of string or yarn. Compare it to things in your house. Is it longer than, shorter than, or the same as things?	Do the "my" and "go" activity sheets.
Name & draw some everyday foods (vegetables, fruit, proteins & whole grains) and sometimes foods (candy, cake, cookies, juice, pop, chips)	Play FREEZE DANCE Put on some music and dance...when a sibling or grown-up pauses the music, FREEZE! Have your grown up help you write/draw what you find.

Roll & Write Game Directions

YOU WILL NEED:

- Cube/block or die
- Masking tape
- Gameboard
- Markers or pencil

1. Print out the Roll & Write gameboard
2. Cover each side of the cube or die with masking tape
3. Choose 6 letters your child needs to practice printing and write on each side of cube
4. To play:
 - Child rolls the die and writes the letter they rolled in the first square.
 - They continue rolling and writing until all of the squares are filled up.
 - When they are done, they can count each letter and determine which have the most/least/same amount.
5. Variations:
 - Use easy words instead of letters (ex. I, we, to, go, my, a)
 - Use numerals instead of letters
 - If using a die, have your child print the numeral that corresponds to the dot arrangement they roll
